2. Answering a call

To answer a call, you first need to “Unlock” the iPad. To do this, press the “On/Off” button or the “Home” button once. It will show you the date and time. Then gently swipe from left to right across the screen.

2. Answering a call

You should then see this. If you do not, press the “Home” button once.

2. Answering a call

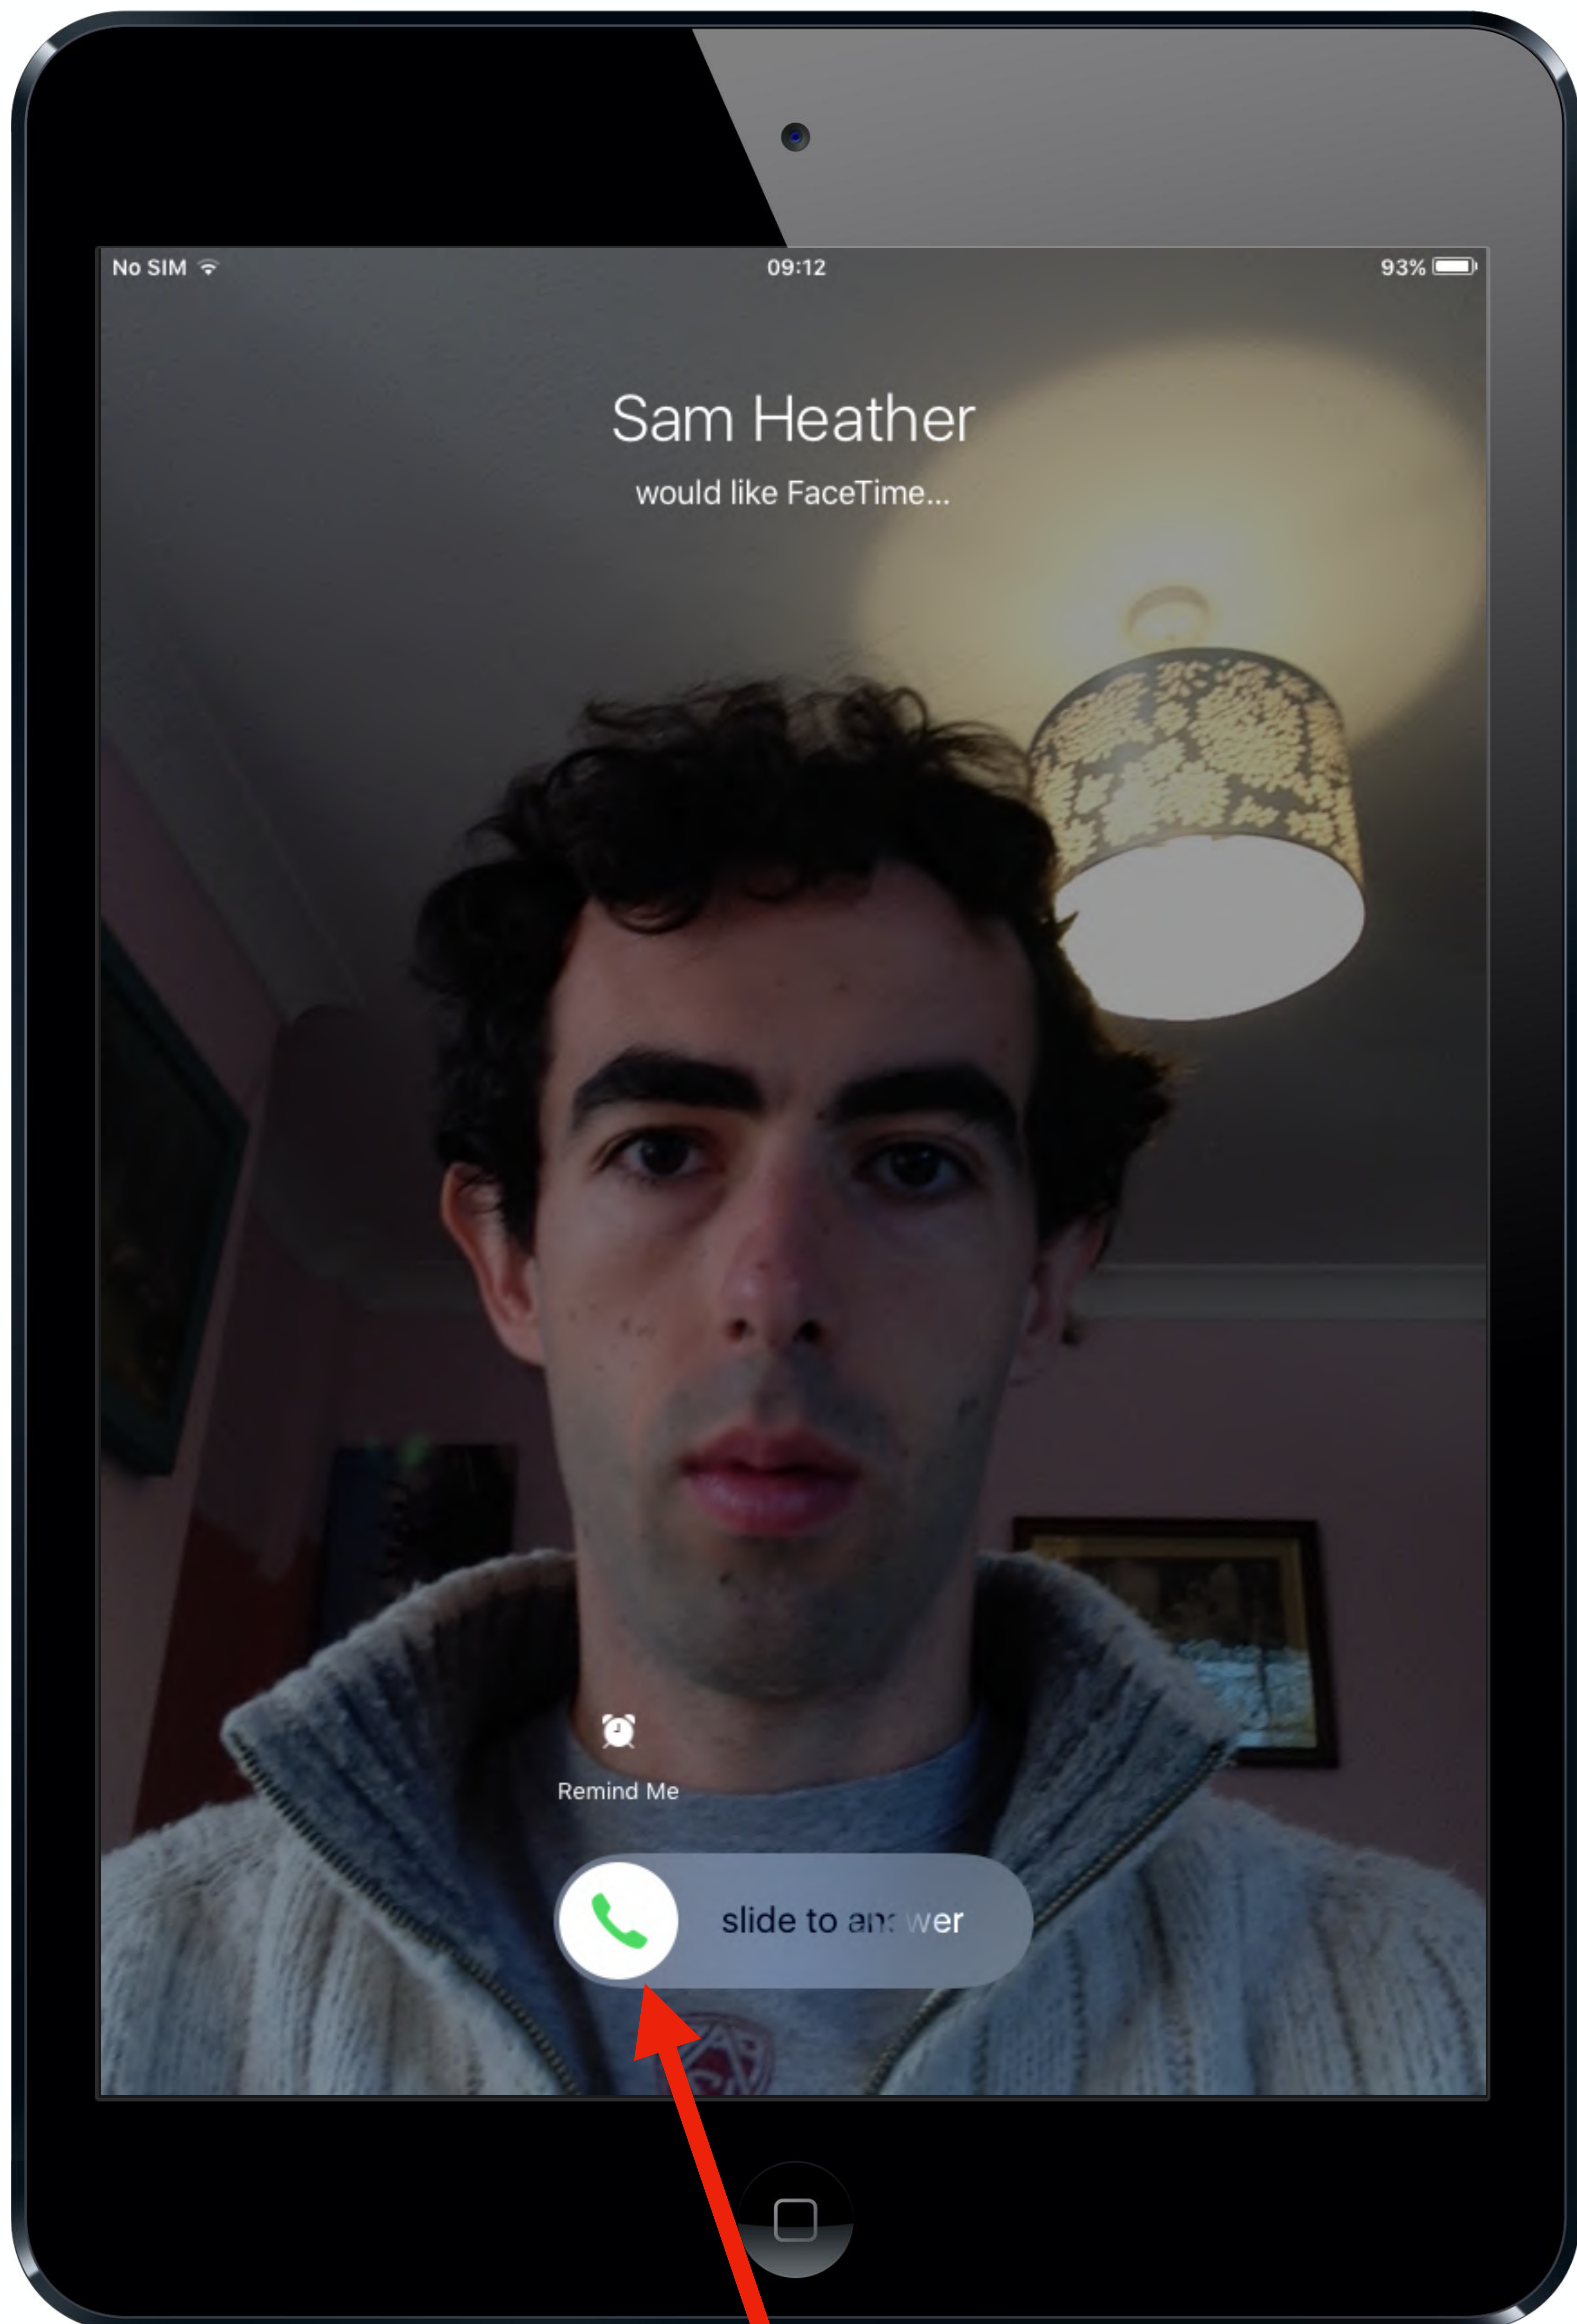

When the call comes through, it will look like this. The screen will show what the camera sees, and the name of the person calling.

To answer the call, touch the green circle.

2. Answering a call

Sometime it might also look like this when someone calls.

To answer the call, touch the white circle and drag it to the right.

3. Whilst on a call

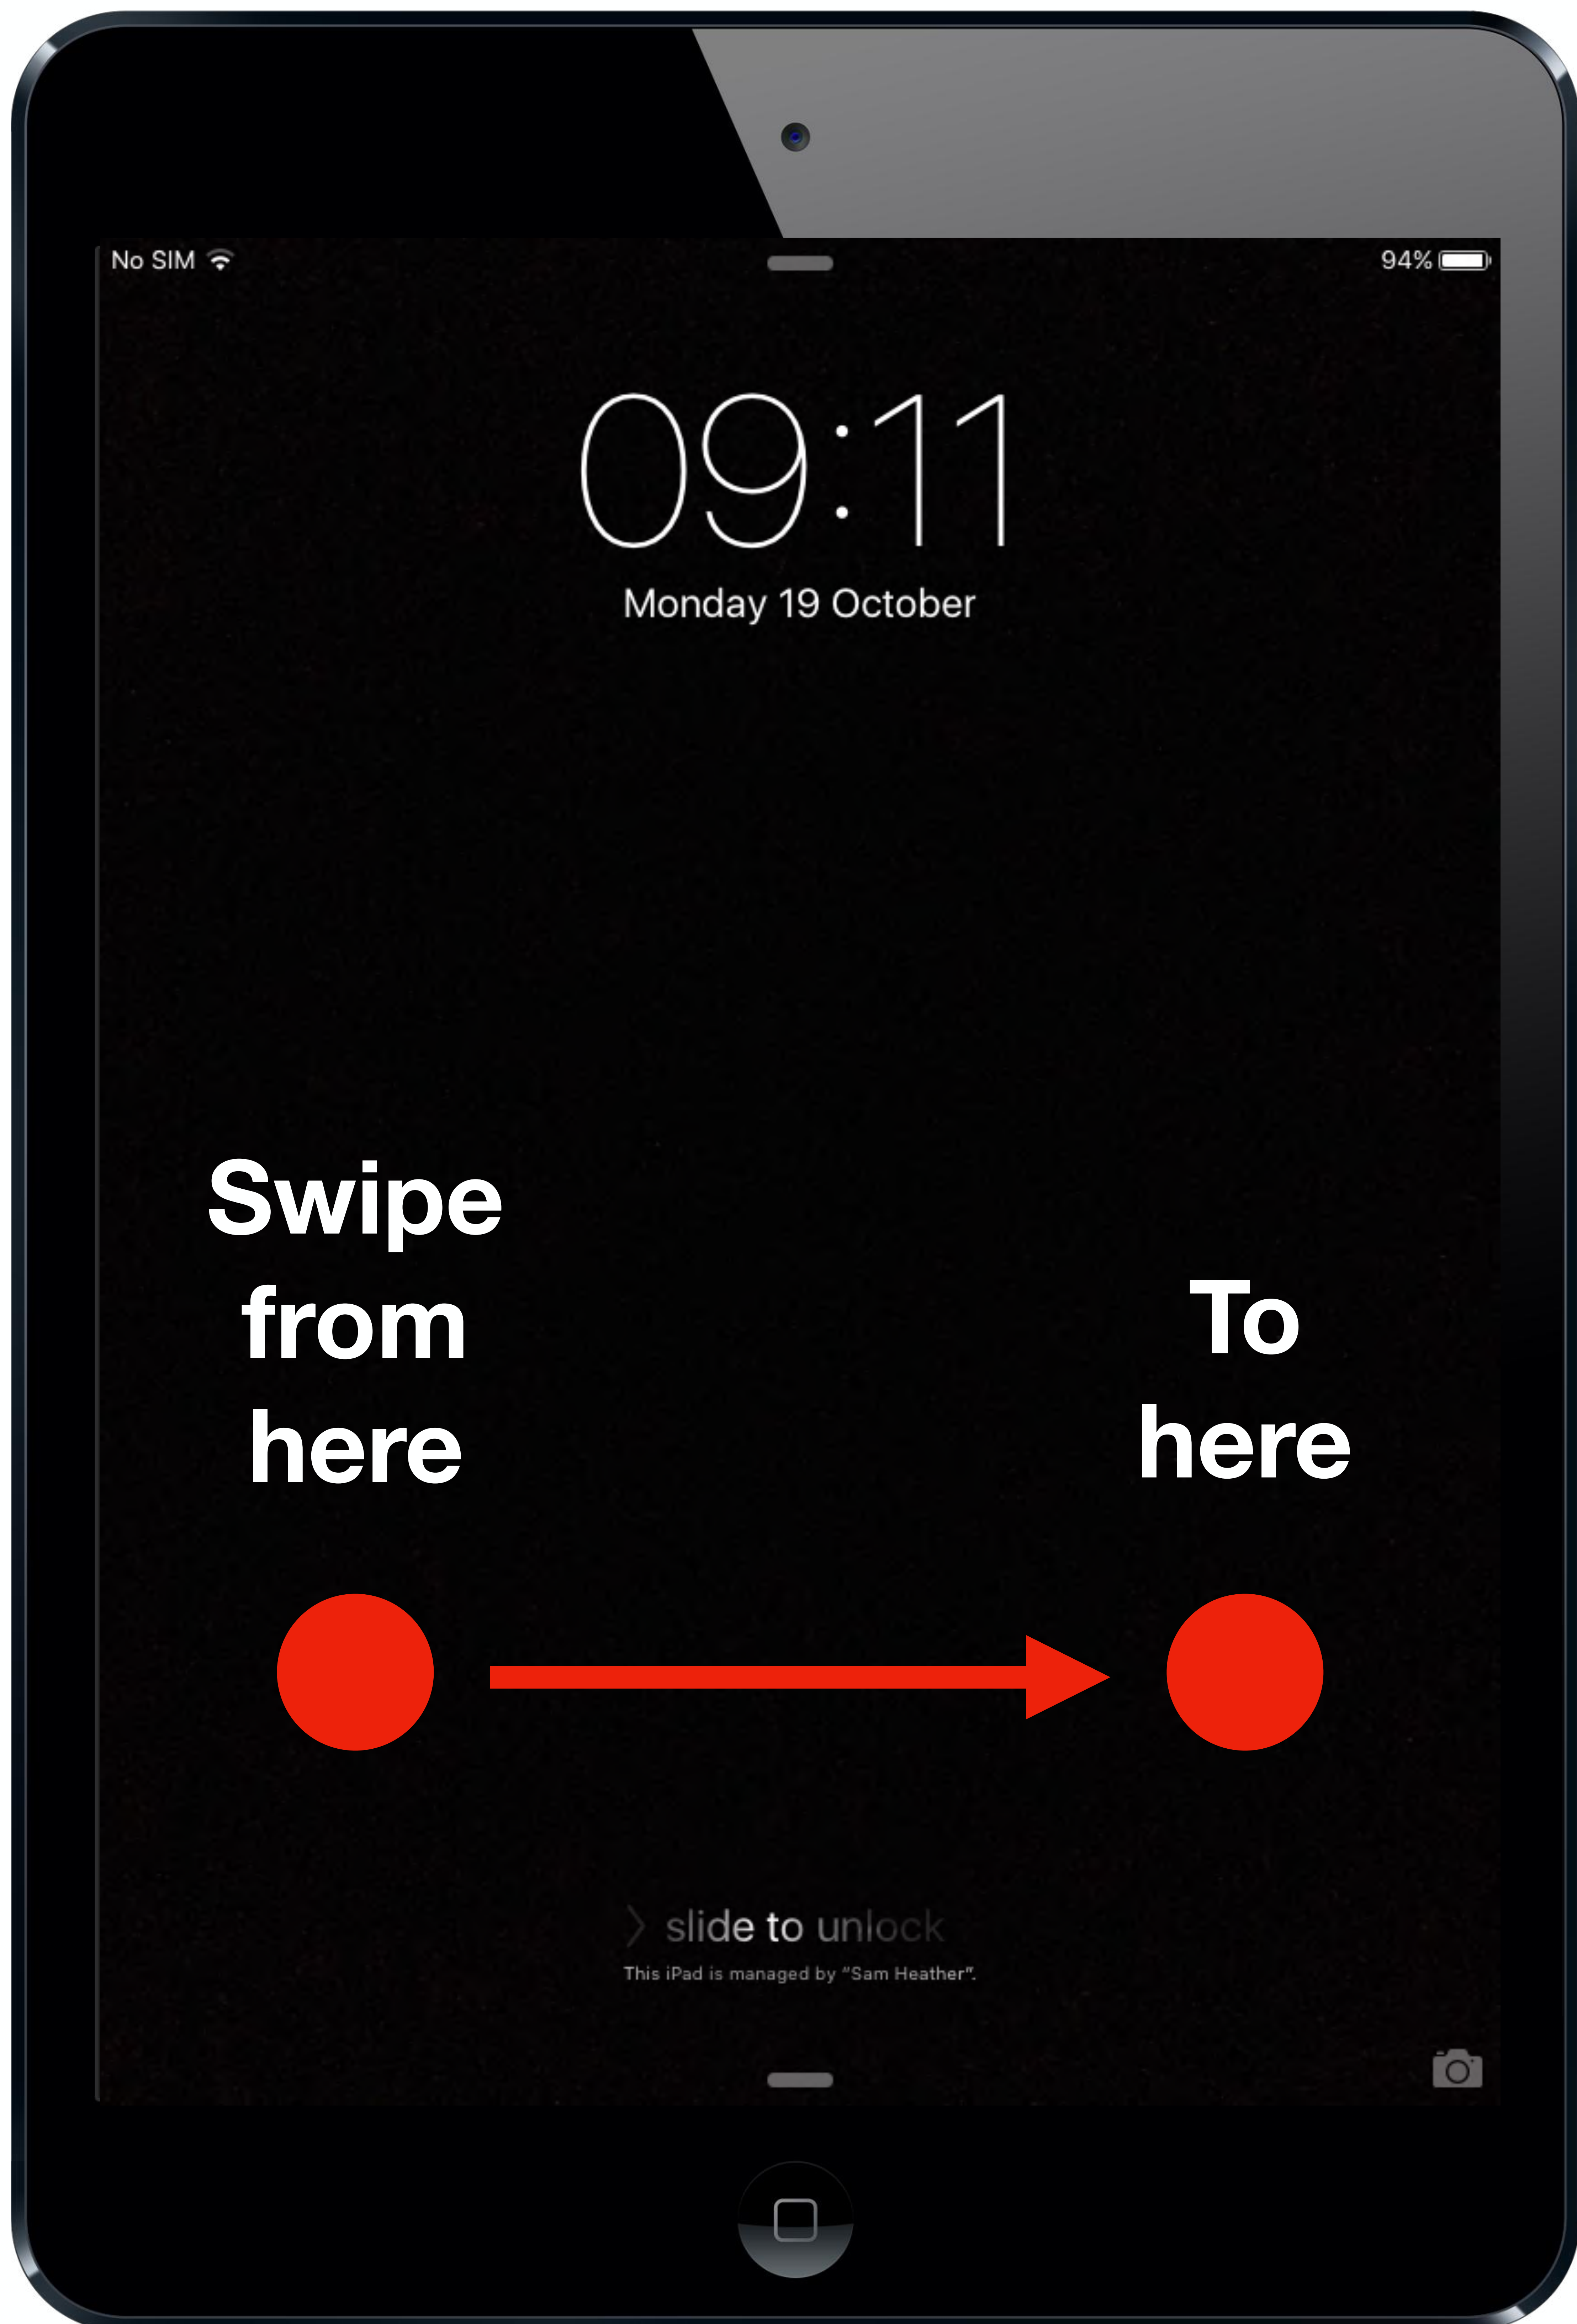

You'll see yourself in one corner, and the person you are calling on the screen. Some controls are available in the bottom left, and these disappear/re-appear if you press once on the middle of the screen.

To end the call, press the “End” button in the controls.

4. Making a call

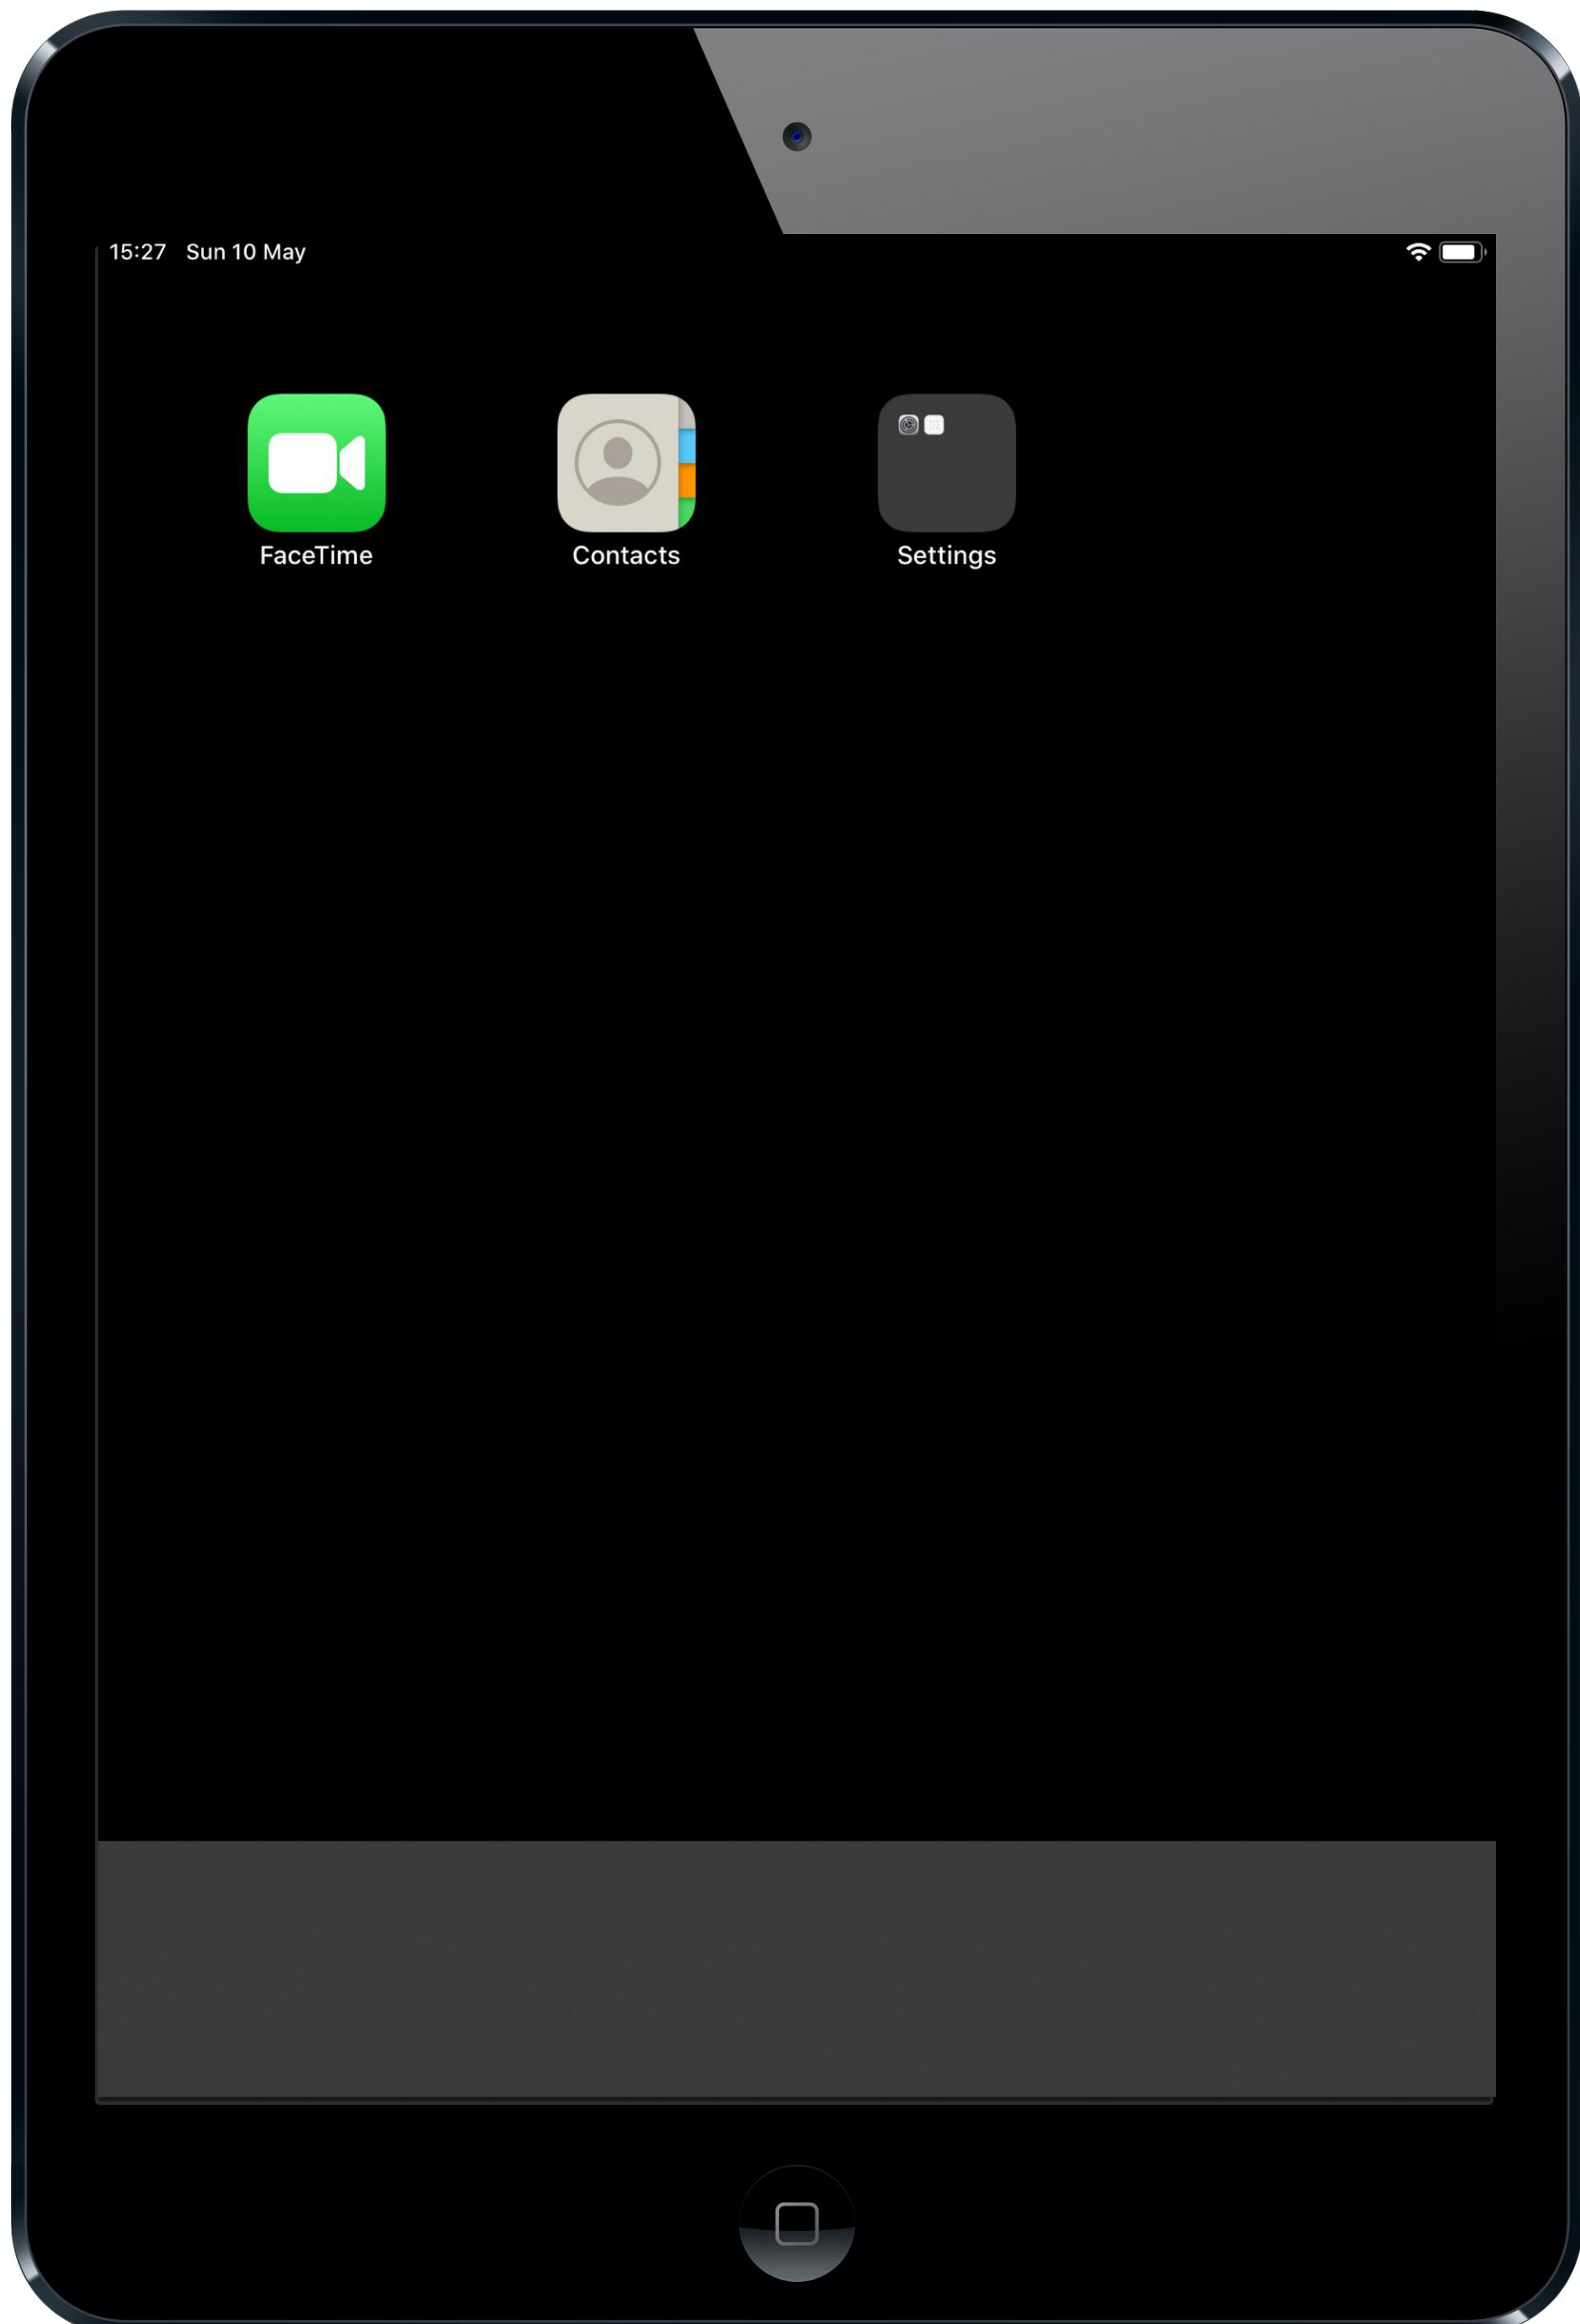

Step 1: “Unlock” the iPad. To do this, press the “On/Off” button or the “Home” button once. It will show you the date and time. Then gently swipe from left to right across the screen.

4. Making a call

Step 2: You will now see the below. You will see 3 buttons. These are:

- FaceTime
- Contacts
- Settings - best not to press this (but don't worry if you do)

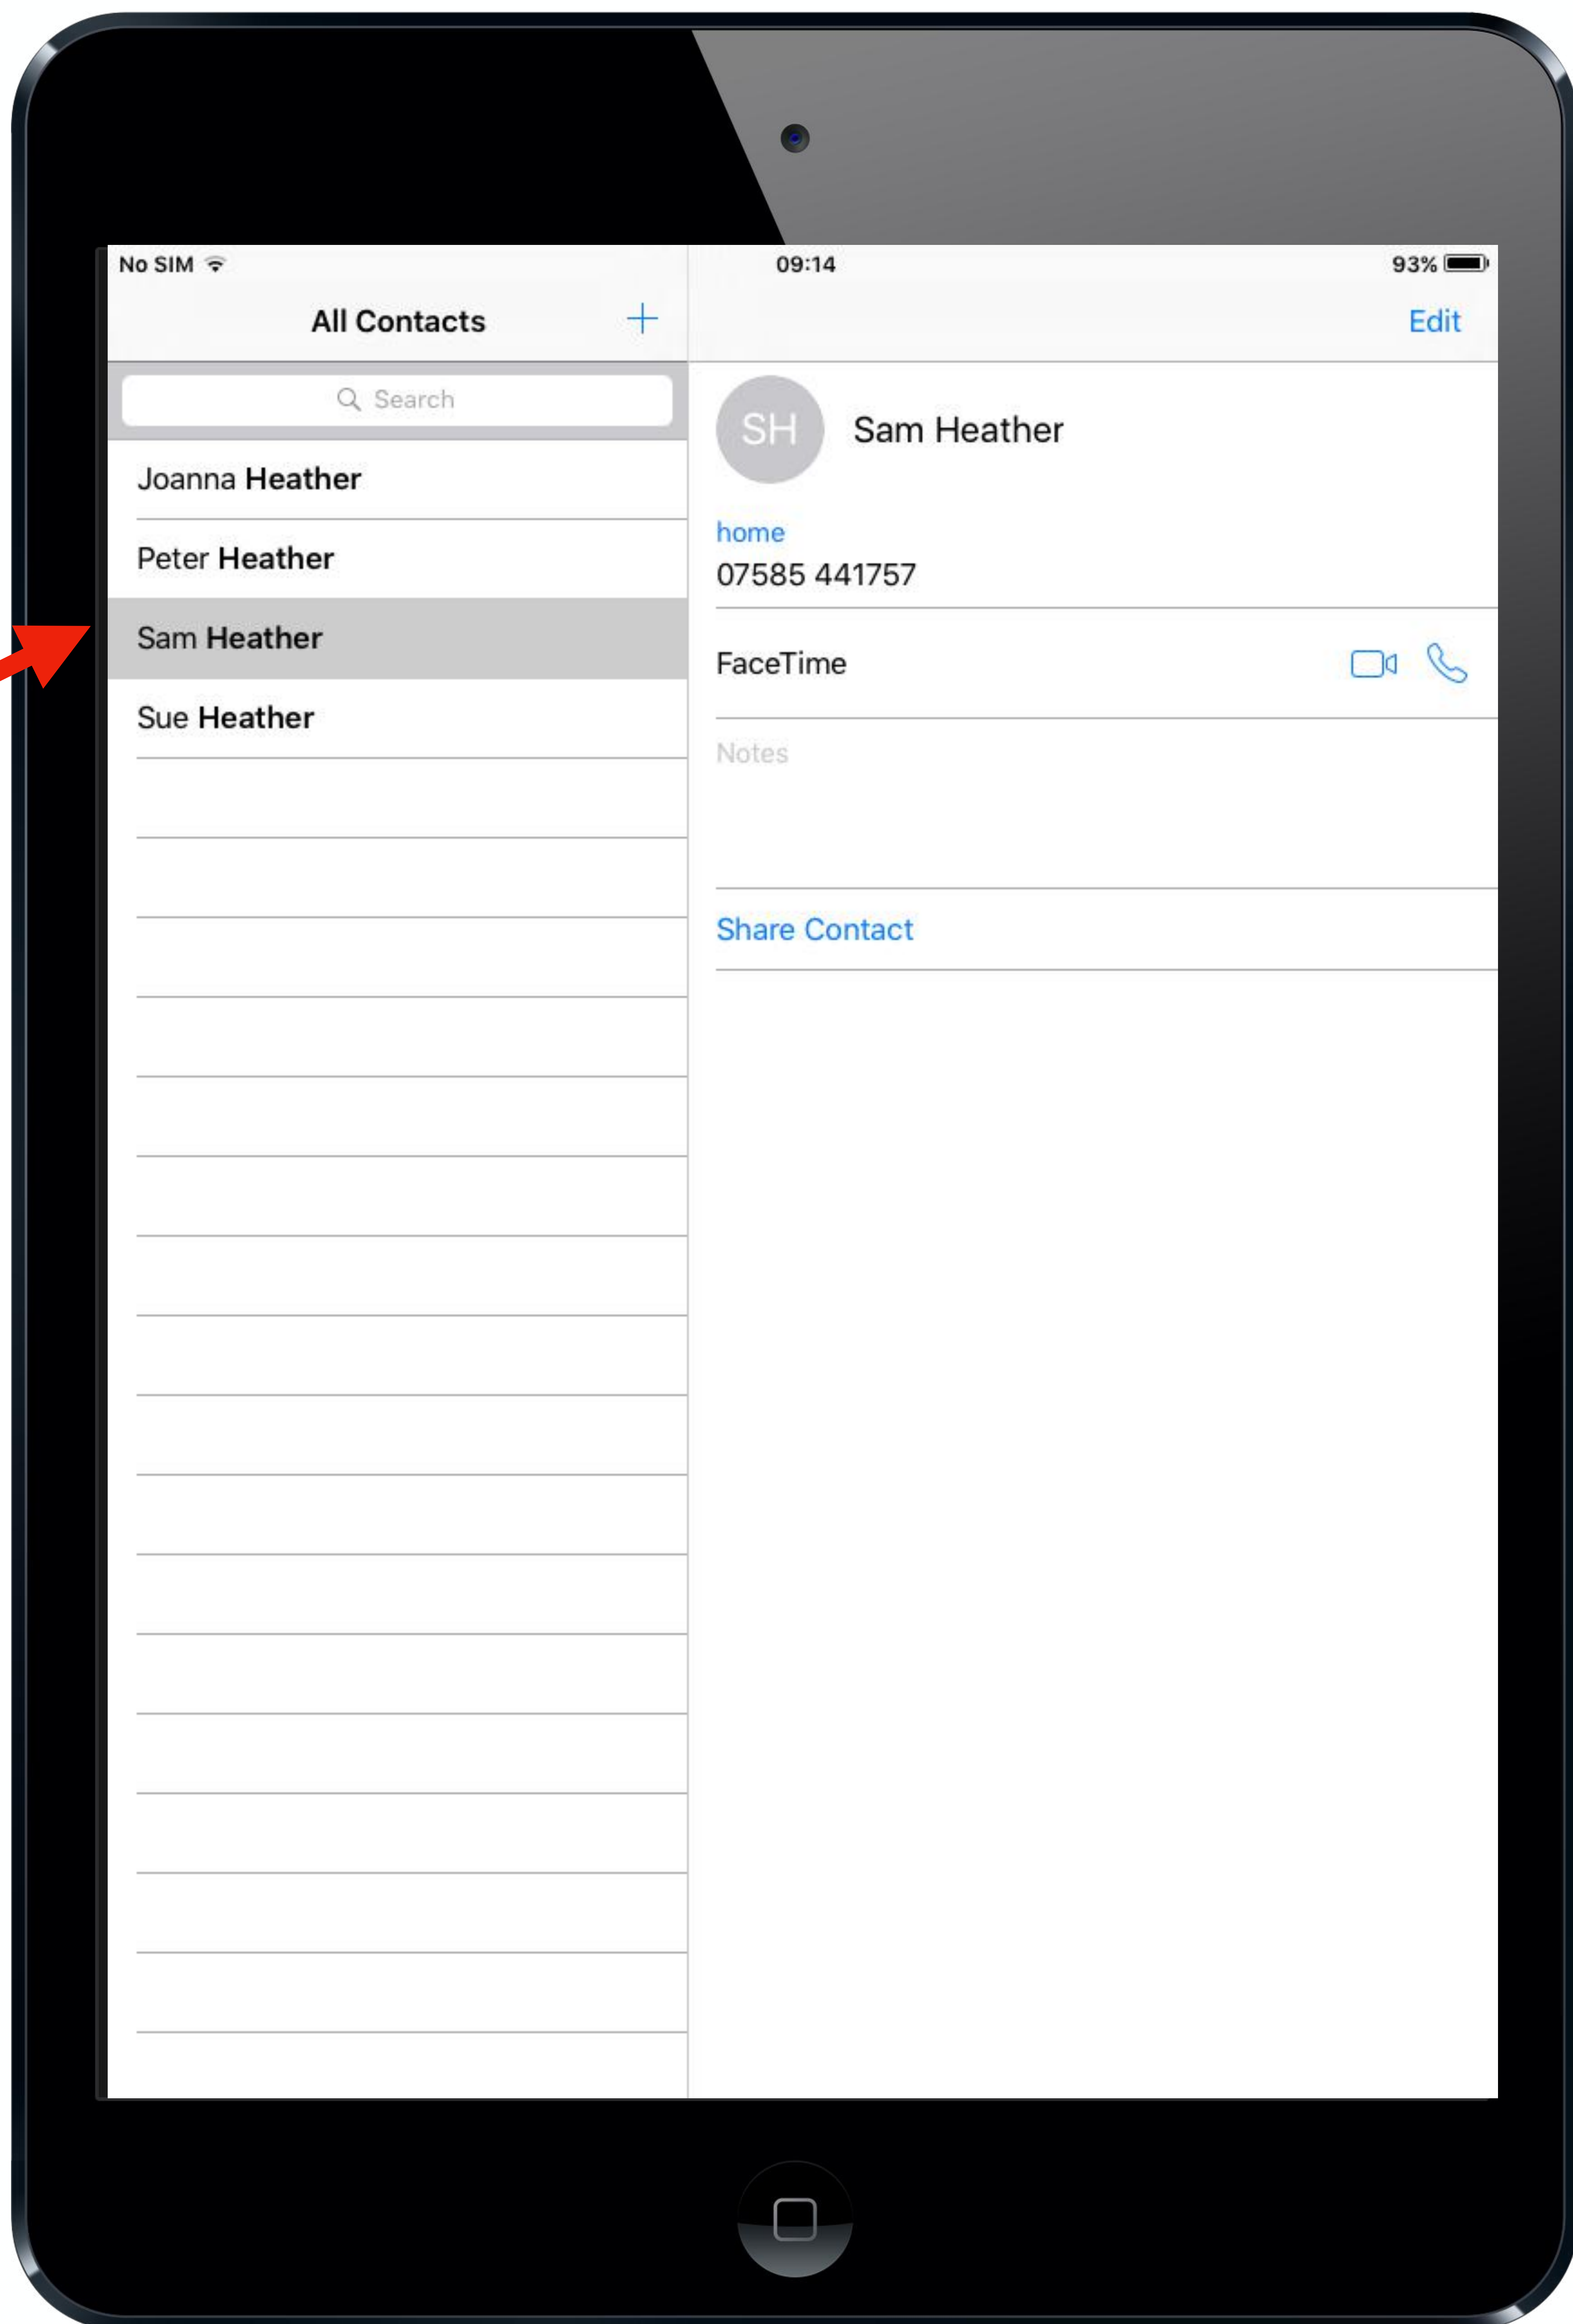

4. Making a call

Step 3: Press “Contacts”

A new page will open up. It will show names of people on the left, and their information on the right. The “selected” person is the one in light grey. Press on the name of the person you would like to call.

Sam is selected

4. Making a call

Step 4: Press “FaceTime”

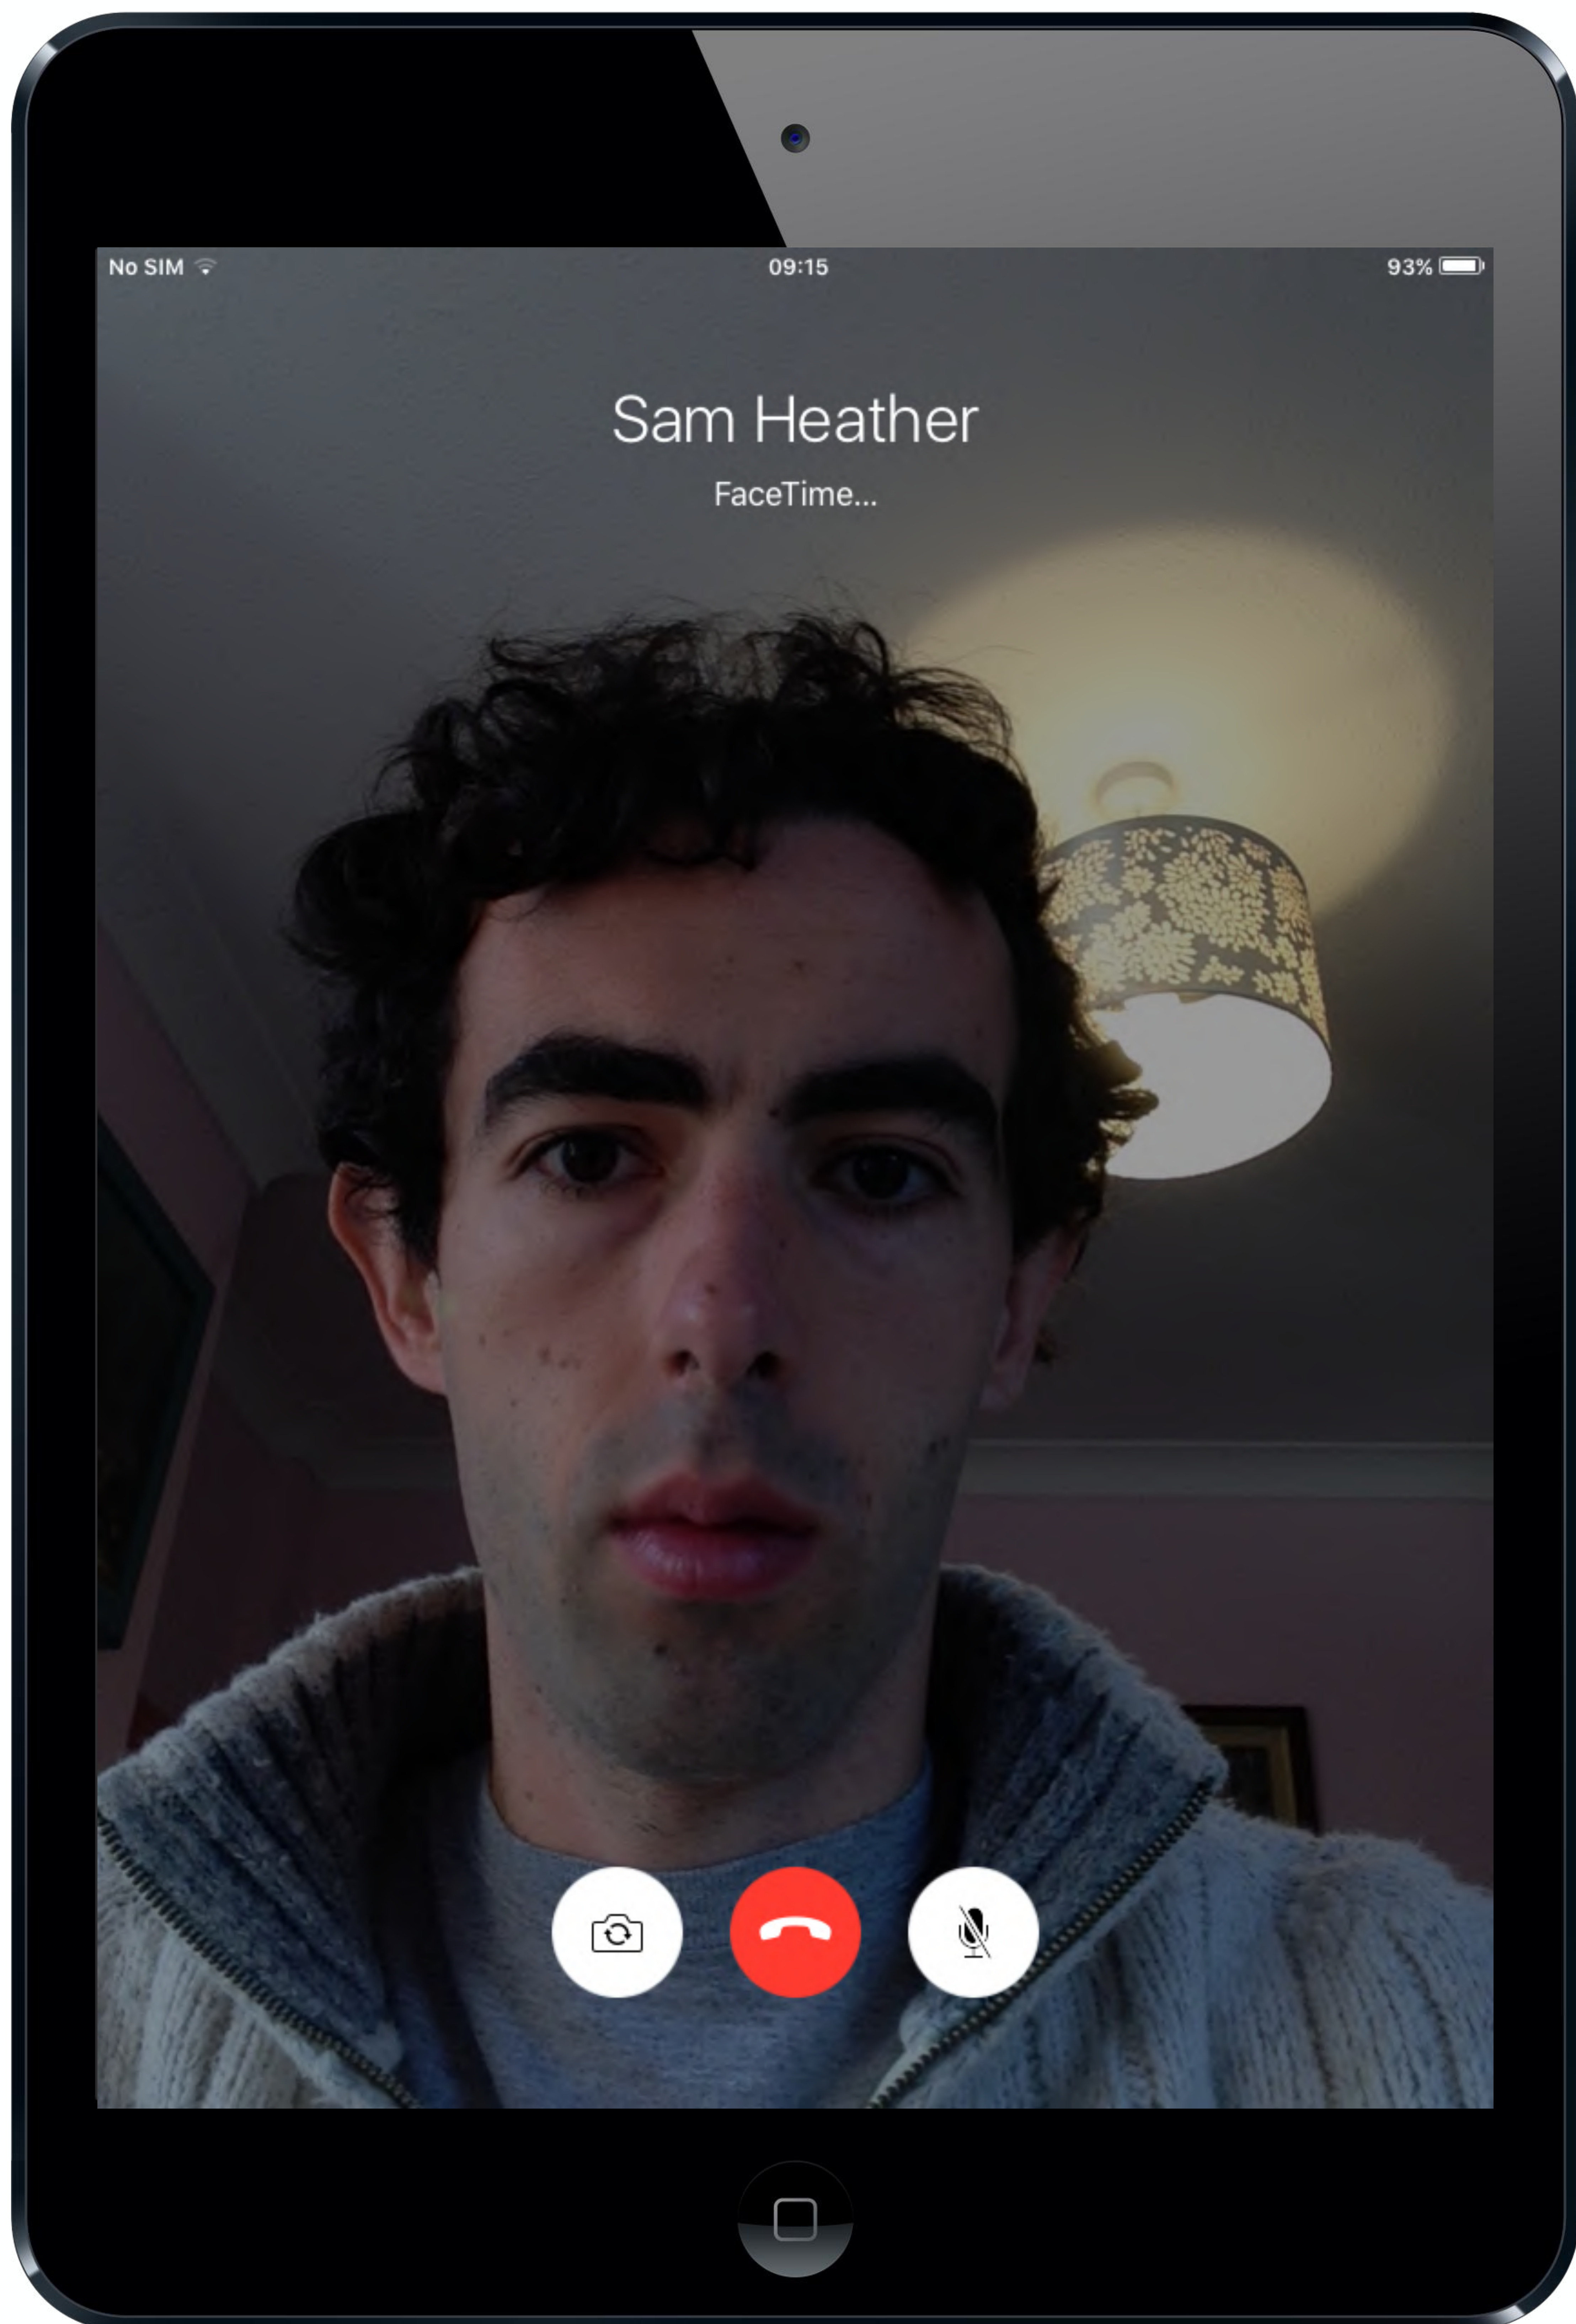

Press the “camera” icon, on the right of the word “FaceTime” (in a red box below) for a video call. If you press the “FaceTime” button with a phone icon, the call will be sound only.

4. Making a call

Step 5: Wait for them to pick up

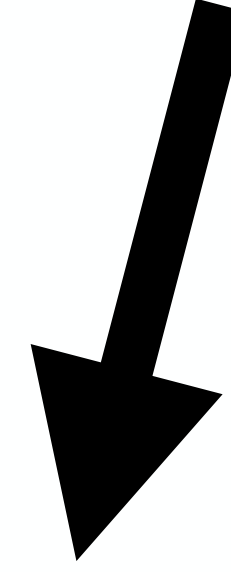

The iPad will show yourself until the person picks up your call.

5. Turning the iPad Off

Press the “On/Off” button once, which will switch the screen off.

On/Off button

6. Additional information

When the screen is off, if you receive a call the iPad may switch itself on and ring. You do not have to turn it on first.

Calls received between 10pm and 7am will be silenced and automatically declined (so they don't disturb you) unless you have already opened the iPad.

To get back to the home screen, you can always press the "Home" button. It will always take you "Home". The iPad is setup so that you won't be able to delete or erase any information - so it's safe to explore and enjoy.
